

October 07 2008:

Gruber Logistics opens agency in Hamburg

The Italian transport and logistics company Gruber Logistics, headquartered in Auer, near Bolzano (Italy), opened a seafreight agency in Hamburg (DE) on 15 September. In addition, Gruber was recognised as an authorised economic operator (AEO) last spring, and now wants to become a member of International Air Traffic Association (IATA). Intensive demand in the plant and project cargo sector has forced Gruber to enter the standard container business sector. However, the Hamburg location should help pave the way for new business relationships. It is the third facility that the Italian service provider has opened this year. The others are in Kufstein (Austria) and Banská Stiavnica (Slovakia). They expand Gruber's network to fifteen locations. The Gruber Logistics group boosted its sales by 21.6%% in the first half of the current year. Last year revenues reached EUR 152.4 million.

- <http://www.gruber-logistics.com>